Photo Collage

Our 2012 conference is gearing up to be an exciting event, with attendance expected to top 400 housing and service professionals from across Pennsylvania. We are seeking your participation in engaging residents in the Housing Services Photo Collage - “Welcome to My Neighborhood!”

What is the Housing Services Conference?

The Housing Services Conference is the annual focal point for training and networking activities for service coordinators and property managers in Pennsylvania. By bringing professionals from around the Commonwealth together in an open exchange of ideas, resources and trends, the conference offers the latest information in the industry. This year we invite you to engage your residents to create a digital Photo Collage “Welcome to My Neighborhood!” These photos will welcome us digitally to your neighborhood, property, and residents - and give you the chance to highlight what is best about your development. These will be shown during the 2012 Housing Services Conference.

The Photo Collage - “Welcome to My Neighborhood!”

This is a unique opportunity to engage residents, management and services professionals in submitting photos of residents, events, your property and neighborhood to share with other participants. The purpose is to highlight what is best about your development and its impact on the neighborhood. The focus is to show what it means to live in your housing development, in your community and to be a part of your neighborhood.

Specifications:

- All photos must be submitted electronically and become the property of PHFA.
