

2020 PHFA MULTIFAMILY AFFORDABLE HOUSING CONFERENCE

Request for Presentations

Please have the submission form completed by October 14, 2019

The Pennsylvania Housing Finance Agency (PHFA) invites interested speakers to submit a Proposal to Present at the Multifamily Affordable Housing Conference. The purpose of the conference is to provide quality learning and networking opportunities to resident service coordinators and property managers as well as others who are involved in the area of affordable rental housing.

Audience

Each year, approximately 600-650 people attend PHFA's MAH Conference and each breakout session attracts between 35 and 120 attendees. Participants include resident service coordinators, property managers, supportive services providers, state and local government representatives, staff from public housing and redevelopment authorities, and representatives from various social service agencies. Conference participants come from Pennsylvania and surrounding states.

Presentation Format

Presenters should plan for a 60 or 90 minute presentation to educate and inform attendees of new or innovative topics/trends or to provide in-depth training and instruction on more familiar topics. Each session should be identified as basic, intermediate, or advanced. PHFA will provide a moderator and room monitor for each session as well as a screen and projector. We ask speakers to come with their own laptop, if at all possible.
