

Prior to purchasing our new home, my daughter and I were living in a 535 sq. ft. in-law suite that did not have its own kitchen or dining room. We were provided a very, very small portion of a kitchen in the main house and ate most of our meals on a tray. While I am extremely grateful for the generosity we were shown, the situation was hard on us both. So to keep her smile bright, I promised her that when she turned six I would have a new home for us. And I did! Twenty-nine days before her sixth birthday I settled on our new house. And since then, her smile hasn't wavered. She continuously makes lists and talks about things she would like in our home. For me, I will enjoy, among many other things, the freedom to be creative in our own kitchen and having family time while enjoying those creations in our own dining room. To me a home isn't just a place, it's a feeling. And I had a feeling the moment I stepped foot into this house that the two of us could make some amazing memories here!
