

My husband and I purchased our first home together in December 2017. We used a PHFA loan to purchase the house. When I first walked in, it didn't feel like just a house, it felt like "home". As we walked through, I came into the kitchen and saw the addition that was added on off the side. That's what sold me.

My mom is Italian and I grew up with her parents (my grandparents) holding big family dinners. The most memorable, Christmas Eve dinner with ALL my aunts, uncles and cousins gathering together for the Italian 7 Fish Meal. As kids, we'd stuff ourselves full of all the different seafood and then anxiously wait for Santa to arrive to pass out gifts. My grandparents have since passed and that tradition has been rotated through my mom, aunt and uncle taking turns holding that same dinner. So, when I saw that beautiful, large, open room off of the kitchen I immediately pictured holding the Christmas Eve 7 Fish Feast right in that room with all of my family sitting around a large table. Keeping that tradition going in my family will make this the house of my dreams.
